Melissa J. Pence, PsyD Neuropsychology

Dr. Pence earned her Doctorate in Clinical Psychology at Regent University in Virginia Beach, VA, in 2005 after completing her pre-doctoral residency at Spring Grove Hospital Center in greater Baltimore, MD. She went on to complete her internship at Spring Grove Hospital Center in Baltimore, MD, and a two year residency in neuropsychology at Hampton Roads Neuropsychology.

As a neuropsychologist, Dr. Pence specializes in the relationship between the nervous system, specifically the brain, to certain psychological processes, behaviors, and cognitive functions in patients who may have a disease, illness or injury. She has specialized training in administering and interpreting neuropsychological tests to assist in diagnosis and determination of appropriate treatment for patients with cognitive and emotional problems.

Prior to joining Sentara, Dr. Pence served as a consultant and, most recently, an independent practitioner with privileges in Clinical Psychology at several local hospitals. She is also an adjunct professor in the School of Health Sciences at Old Dominion University. Among the professional associations in which Dr. Pence is a member, are the International Neuropsychological Society, the National Academy of Neuropsychology and the Virginia Psychological Association. She is also credentialed with the National Register of Health Service Providers in Psychology.
